Battle Creek Man Injured In Accidental Shooting

A 28-year old Battle Creek man is listed in good condition at Grayling's Mercy Hospital following an accidental shooting last Tuesday at a cabin near Frederic.

According to the Crawford County Sheriff's Department, Mark Schwalin was apparently cleaning a weapon when it accidentally discharged and the bullet entered his thigh. Police received the call about 5:00 p.m. and the victim was transported to Mercy Hospital by Frederic Twp. ambulance.

Deputies are continuing their probe into a shooting incident in which a person or persons shot out insulators on a power line creating an outage in the Wakeley Bridge area.

The malicious shooting resulted in the power being out approximately two hours and anyone having information regarding the incident is asked to call the Sheriff's Department at 348-6341.

Camp Grayling officials were called by the Sheriff's Dept. to remove the tail fin of a military missile which was discovered laying on the roadway of Old-27 north near M-93.

Camp officials speculated the missile part must have been removed from a firing range and dumped along the road where it was discovered by Gary Hoag of Grayling this past Sunday.

No damage or injury was reported in the incident but Sheriff's deputies warn the general public that objects discovered in range areas should not be tampered with since they could pose a serious threat.

Sixty-five complaints were received by the Sheriff's office for the period November 16th through the 23rd. Topping the list of complaints were nine breaking & enterings and reports of five car/deer accidents. Three personal damage accidents were investigated along with a personal injury accident. Three reports of malicious destruction of property were checked.

Deputies also made four DUIL arrests and issued two citations for open intoxicants in vehicles. Three fire runs were made and the remainder of complaints for the period included reports dangerous shooting, harassment, larcenies, suspicious vehicles, felonious assault, attempts to locate, dangerous situations and trespassing. The ambulance was called out on one occasion during the period.

Weyerhaeuser To Add Second Plant Here

by Joe Schrader

Weyerhaeuser Company provided Grayling's future economic outlook a much-needed booster shot recently, announcing plans for construction of an allied production facility in the community.

Although an exact site for the company's second plant has not been named, the facility will produce resin to be used in the manufacture of structurwood at the company's primary operation now under construction on Four Mile Road.

Price tag for the plant is estimated at $12.5 million, with employment expected to be around 30 people, increasing to about 60 during peak production and cleanup periods. A decision on selection of an exact site for the new plant is expected in about two months.

The Crawford County Economic Development

Corporation November 14th passed a resolution to induce Weyerhaeuser to move forward with its plans by approving the issuance of $10 million in revenue bonds to help finance construction of the plant.

The announcement came on the heels of a recent decision by the Beaver Creek Township Board to provide tax relief for Weyerhaeuser in the construction of the Four Mile Road plant, a $62.5 million operation expected to provide up to 250 jobs in the community.

Weyerhaeuser will produce sheathing panels used for flooring, roofing and walls in the building industry. The Four Mile Road installation will be situated on 510 acres of land and startup at the 250,000 square foot facility is anticipated in mid-1982.

Startup of the resin operation will approximately coincide with the opening of the sheathing operation, and in fact may precede it by about three months.

Information on How To Obtain Food Stamps

by Jack Mason

"Proper use of the Food Stamp Program can save the wise user money not only now but in the years ahead..." So says Pat Thomas, Director of the Crawford County Department of Social Services in explaining the Food Stamp Program as administered by the State of Michigan, under the Direction of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Ms. Thomas stated that while the Food Stamp Program is considered by many people to be a part of the Social Services aid programs, it is basically a nutritional program based on information concerning proper nutritional balance, and a supply of Food Stamps to help achieve such a balance. While USDA Food Stamps are not available to all persons, the information is and can be obtained at the Social Services office at Grayling's Milltown Corner Office. Similar information can also be obtained from the Health Department, hospitals, doctors, libraries, schools with food programs, many reliable private publications, (such as women's magazines), or by writing the United States Department of Agriculture.

Most citizens automatically qualify for Food Stamps at the same time they qualify for General Assistance or ADC. Primarily these are people who have low or no income, cannot receive unemployment benefits from either the State or private sources and have no way to properly buy food for personal and family use.

At the present time there are a growing number whose benefits from other sources have run out and who are still unemployed. In an area such as Crawford County where there is such a dependence on factors over which residents have no control, tourism, weather, economy downturn, price of gasoline, and public transportation, tend to have a drastic and immediate effect. Another growing factor in the use of Food Stamps and other DSS services is the value of the dollar. When this drops, prices rise and those on fixed incomes—such as Senior Citizens—are caught in a painful vise over which they have no control whatsoever.

Yet another area of Food Stamp users are those who are referred by other public and private agencies: Health Department, school system, private physicians, Senior Citizens agencies, Legal Aid, Churches, Probation and Parole Offices, community clubs and groups, even concerned neighbors and citizens.

Returning lettermen for the varsity include seniors Bill Roach, Scott Hamlin, John Juntilla and Scott Hale, all veterans from a year ago when Grayling rolled to a 17-5 record, including eleven straight wins to start the season.

"We'll play the same type of game this year," remarked Hayes in a recent talk, "we're small but quick, we'll run a lot and you can look for us to put on See Vikings on Page 8

From Our Corner ...

Let's talk turkey...

First, this turkey we are trying to fill this week with a blank mind, and on Sunday afternoon nonetheless...it is supposed to be day one and we shouldn't have to exercise our grey matter at all...

We have again reached that time of year when the publication of the Avalanche is sort of fouled up...this is with Thanksgiving always falling on a Thursday...we print a day earlier so our subscribers may have their favorite newspaper to read over after filling up on that good turkey and all the trimmings...

So for us, Monday morning, was like Tuesday morning because of all the deadlines that go into putting the paper to bed each Wednesday morning...

As if Thanksgiving day falling on Thursday is not bad enough...we checked the calendar the other day and found out we will be faced with two more of these Sunday-Monday get togethers...Christmas also falls on a Thursday as well as the first day of 1981...no rest for the ol' fella...

We mentioned last week about receiving a new typewriter that doesn't know how to spell...well we forgot to mention the type style is much larger than the one we have been using and so when we had filled two pages we handed it over to be set...we missed calculating and fell way short of what we expected...so now ol' Smithy is going to have to push out more words to fill Our Corner...and at times like today it is quite frustrating...

The round ball season is just around the corner, and we understand our Viking cagers will have a well-represented team for the long season that concludes with March Madness...to the team members and their coaches, "Butch" Hayes, Jerry St. Germain, Tom Mills and Dan Ullery our best wishes and good luck for a successful season...

Also to all those who participate in the boys' wrestling team and the girls' on the Volleyball squad good luck and best wishes from the ol' fella's corner...

An idle thought...isn't it nice to travel on M-72 West now...just the other day someone told us we should go west young man...the tracks won't rattle your dentures anymore...we think he was trying to be a bit funny...

By the time you read this trivia...we hope you remember what type of day it was Sunday...blah...well that is just the way we are feeling today, just like the weather is outside...and to think we have a whole sheet of paper yet to fill this turkey...

Another idle thought...come Monday morning we will be able to wear our M cap with pride...the Wolverines will be heading for the Rose Bowl come New Year's Day...and the Buckeyes are going to come bowl, we can't remember which and it really doesn't matter that much...Go Blue! and...smell the Roses!

Now for the good turkey...the kind that graces the table on Thanksgiving Day...to most, that is...we are planning now, and if everything works out right we will be in T.C. with our family there...we are happy for those of our readers who will be able to spend the day with their families...like us there are more that are too far away to be able to spend the day of thankfulness together while living in the free America like we do...there are many who will go hungry this day all over the world...

Thanksgiving Day is only celebrated in Uncle Sam's country...it is the day for all of us to sit back and think of the many things we should be thankful for by living in the United States of America...there are many...

Thanksgiving — '80

"Rest and be thankful." How far modern man has strayed from that wise old Scottish counsel! Too often we scurry about our daily affairs, complaining of traffic, the state of the Union, food prices and the like — never bothering to count our blessings. This Thanksgiving Day, November 27, would be an excellent time to reflect upon the true meaning of life in America and, in so doing, come to a real appreciation of our good fortune.

Thanksgiving is more than a unique American celebration to be observed with parades, roast turkey and speeches. It honors the beginnings of the U.S. and our rich legacy of freedom, won by the blood and sacrifices of the first American settlers and others who came before us. How can anyone breathe the sweet air of freedom and not dedicate themselves to the democratic ideals which make life worth living and upon which this nation was founded? That each of us should be alive and living in the greatest country on Earth is cause enough to give thanks every day of the year. We should never be too busy to "Rest and be thankful."

Have a nice Thanksgiving Day...remember starting the weekend it will be time to think of good ol' Santa Claus, just thought we'd throw that in...

Mrs. Harvey Rowland's name was announced on the Tuesday night TV program "Name That Tune," last week, as having been one of those whose list of seven favorite tunes were accepted for use on the program. Mrs. Rowland had the suspenseful experience of watching the contestant who was to name her tunes go as far as the fifth one, and then make a mistake, thereby ending Mrs. Rowland's chances of getting a free trip to New York to appear on the screen also. However, she was fortunate enough to win half the amount won by the contestant, about $200 which is a pretty good return on two three-cent stamps.

The song which stumped the studio contestant was "Beautiful Ohio". Mrs. Rowland, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.P. Peterson of Grayling, a former teacher in the Standish school system, lives in Grayling with her husband who is yard manager of the Grayling Lumber and Supply Co. The only Michigan contestant to reach the "Name That Tune" golden marathon was Mrs. Ada Wenger of Muskegon Heights who won $3000 with her partners in 1956.

Dr. and Mrs. B.E. Henig entertained a group of friends Friday night with a lobster dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sojka and children of Centerline visited her mother, Mrs. Ernest Borchers and Don, weekend before last, as did Mr. and Mrs. George Granger, of Big Rapids.

Bill Holzman is another student who shot his buck the opening day of deer season, a fine 7-pointer. Bill and his father, were spending the first three days at Bois Blanc Island.

Mrs. Harvey Rowland entertained six little friends of her son Jimmy on Tuesday, November 19th in honor of his 6th birthday. The children came in the late afternoon to enjoy some games and supper, topped off with birthday cake and ice cream.

Joe LaGrow celebrated his 12th birthday Sunday in company with six young men of his acquaintance. They went to the theatre in the afternoon, and came back to Joe's home, where his mother, Mrs. William LaGrow, served a birthday supper, complete with ice cream and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawley had a daughter, Brenda Lee, born Nov. 22. She weighed 5 lbs. 12 ozs.

Basketball in Grayling for the season 1934-35 was officially inaugurated with the annual fracas between the High School and its Alumni. The Alumni managed to cop the ball game by the rather narrow margin of 27-23, and again it was demonstrated the Alumni teams usually win from the next generation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Corwin, the former who was here hunting for a week and landed his buck, returned to their home in Wayne Friday. While here they were guests of the former's cousin, Menno Corwin and family.

Rainy weather continues, Wednesday morning the sun made a poor attempt to peek through the heavy ceiling. Temperature is much above normal either day or night.

Mr. and Mrs. Esbern

Olson and Esbern Jr. were in Lansing Sunday where they visited their son Nels, who is attending Michigan State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stephan returned home Friday from a hunting trip in the Upper Peninsula. They failed to get their bucks there so are trying their luck nearer home.

Dr. and Mrs. C.R. Keyport left Tuesday for Nashville, Tenn., where they will spend Thanksgiving with their daughter, Miss Jayne, a student at Ward-Belmont. They expect to return home the fore-part of the week.

Benny Jorgenson left Sunday for Detroit to enter an Art school to take a course in art. He has been doing a lot of pencil sketching for some time, which has attracted a lot of attention and on which he has received very favorable comment. It is exceptionally good work for one who has never had a lesson in art. He is wished a lot of success.

Word is received here of the marriage of Charles Ames, of Waters, and Miss Veitline Morency, of Maple Forest, early this month.

A large bear that was raising havoc among flocks of sheep near Red Oak has been killed by a party of hunters and shipped from Lovells one day last week.

The mill at Lovells, owned by T.E. Douglas, was burned last week Thursday night and caused no little excitement in that little town.

Instead of the regular weekly business meeting of the Goodfellows Club Monday evening, the ladies observed Thanksgiving with a six o'clock dinner at the home of Mrs. T. Hanson.

Margaret Douglas and Martha Stillwagon of Lovells spent the weekend at the home of John Schram in Grayling.

Perry Ostrander of Cheney is improving the sleighing by drawing hay from his marsh.

Mrs. Frank Barber of Cheney has returned from her visit to New York, and she thinks there is no place like home.

Miss O'Callaghan, Miss Bell, Miss Kenny, former teachers in Grayling schools and Miss Canfield, at that time known as the Burt crowd, are expecting to spend Thanksgiving here, the guests of Miss Irving.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

New Bibles Weaken Our Faith in Prayer

All the new Revised Bibles cast doubts upon many of the words, verses and teachings of our Lord Jesus Christ. They question all the verses of Mark 16:9-20. They question the ministry of Jesus to the woman caught in adultery. John 7:53-8:11. Perhaps the greatest doctrine called into question is the teaching of our Lord concerning prayer. While Christ was here He questioned if He would find faith in prayer at His return. Luke 18:1-8. Satan has used the Revised Bibles to destroy much of that faith.

1. God's will in prayer is questioned in Luke 11:2. These words are called into question in the Lord's Prayer: "Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth." Praying God's will is the first important principle of prayer.

2. No forgiveness from God until we forgive others is questioned in Mark 11:26: "But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses." God answer to our prayers is conditioned upon our attitude and action towards others. Many prayers are unanswered because this principle is ignored.

3. Fasting becomes necessary for some hard cases of prayer. This principle is questioned in Matthew 17:21: "Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting." "Fasting" is also removed or questioned in Mark 9:29. How many times have you heard of this important principle of prayer taught or practiced today?

4. The "work principle" of prayer given in example by our Lord is denied in Luke 22:43, 44 in many new revised Bibles: "And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven strengthening him. And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground." How often do we work at prayer enough to perspire?

5. The hypocrisy of long, pretentious, public prayer is questioned or denied: "Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation." Matthew 23:14. Some people's "week" life does not support their Sunday prayer. Is our public image always consistent??

It must appear clear to all of us that Satan has a plan to weaken our faith in prayer. He is attempting to bring partial paralysis into the body of Christ by hampering communication between the head, Christ, and His body, the Church. His venom of unbelief has left us spiritually groggy, lazy and feeling comfortable without true Bible prayer. Always remember, "...faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God." Romans 10:17. Any Bible which cast unbelief on verses and words of our Lord, is not THE ONE TRUE BIBLE. Be not deceived, God is not mocked. (adv.)

CARD OF THANKS

The Family of Elizabeth Atkinson wishes to thank Rev. Spencer, the Mary Martha Circle of United Methodist Church, the Order of Eastern Star.

Also the nurses on the North Wing of Mercy Hospital and Dr. Burkley. And our friends and neighbors for their flowers, cards, prayers, kind words and generosity.

CHEESE COATING

Wax or some other protective coating usually is put around cheese after it has been formed. It is then allowed to age for varying lengths of time, depending on the kind of cheese being made.

Dinner and/or Theater Offered at Kirtland

An unusual evening of dinner and/or theater will be offered at Kirtland Community College on Friday, December 5, 1980. In a fascinating one-man musical event, Roger Jamison recreates Franz Schubert in the same vein as Henry Fonda recreated Clarence Darrow and Hal Holbrook recreated Mark Twain. Through costume, songs, piano, and dramatization, the Austrian composer's life and genius are illustrated.

Commenting on a recent Schubert performance, John Gullin, Detroit Free Press music critic, said "Wednesday night, about 9:30, Jamison strolled down the steps leading to the restaurant looking for all the world like Schubert, complete with frock coat, curly wig, and spectacles". Guinn also praised the fondness of Jamison's pianistic touch and the richness of his voice.

Mr. Jamison came to Michigan to join the faculty of the Detroit Conservatory of Music after receiving his masters degree from Ohio State University. He has collaborated with such conductors as Robert Shaw, Antal Dorati and Neville Marriner. As a member of the Kenneth Jewel Chorale, he has soloed with many Michigan orchestras and at the Cranbrook and Meadowbrook music festivals. He has made appearances on national television and in New York's Town Hall.

Last season, Mr. Jamison performed on the popular "Brunch with Bach" series at the Detroit Institute of Arts, and was featured with Isaac Stern and Eugene Istomin at the Detroit Symphony's International Brahms Festival.

Reservations are needed for the German style dinner, which will be served in Kirtland's Student Center from 6 to 7:30 p.m. Dinner is $5.00 per person. No reservations are necessary for the performance in the auditorium, which begins at 8:00 p.m. Tickets for the performance are $3.50 each, or $2.00 for senior citizens and KCC students. For reservations or information, call 275-5121.

In addition to these and other smaller cuts throughout the Department, a freeze has been imposed on all hirings.

Secretary of State Austin said that the closing of the offices is one of a series of painful steps underway for some time that the Department had to take in order to meet the target given by the Governor in view of the state's depressed financial situation.

Projected offices to be closed, include the Houghton Lake office at 2802 W. Houghton Lake Drive.

Lansing Report

by State Rep. Ralph Ostling
Budget Within Limits

The entire House Republican Caucus has unanimously approved a resolution which pushes the Legislature to pass a full-year 1981 budget with available revenue. The resolution also calls for an immediate reform of the state's antiquated Worker's Compensation Act. The Act, adopted in 1912, is cited by many business, government and labor leaders as a major factor in deterring possible economic expansion, and consequently, job opportunities in the state.

Short-lived Decision?

"Let those who ride decide" has been the battle cry of motorcycle riders who believe mandatory helmet laws are an infringement on their freedom. Last week it became a victory cheer when, after years of lobbying, the state Senate finally approved legislation repealing the state's law for everyone over the age of 18, as well as a bill prohibiting local ordinances that require helmets. But the victory may be short-lived. The House, tied up with deliberations over budget bills, may not get around to considering the measure before the end of the year, in which case the motorcycleists would be forced to take up their standard once again and plead with the Legislature to "let those who ride decide."

Pigeon River

The smoke appears to finally be clearing in the 12-year battle between environmentalists and oil interests over drilling the Pigeon River State Forest, a 96,000-acre tract of land just east of Wolverine. The disagreements between the two sides have been numerous, but an agreement reached recently would indicate that we may see oil companies drilling in the forest only under the most strict environmental protections as early as the first of the year. Three oil companies—Amoco Production Company, Shell Oil Company and Northern Michigan Exploration Company—hold leases to drill in the area.

Blue Cross

A House-Senate conference committee broke new ground last week on a major piece of legislation that will restructure the state's largest health insurer, Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Though the committee reached compromises on a number of key issues, one point of argument remains the definitions of "labor" and "management" to be used in determining membership of the Blues board. Further action on the bill will be taken after the Thanksgiving weekend recess.

Water Transportation Authority

The state Department of Transportation announced last week that it will ask the Legislature to establish a Lake Michigan Transportation Authority to oversee future water transportation on the lake and put new life into the industry.

"Cooperative Extension Service programs are open to all without regard to race, color, national origin or sex."

by Sue Louchart

Hello! I'm Chris Clover here with news from the Crawford County 4-H Clubs.

Boy, has Nancy Hatfield's house ever been smelling good these past weeks! The members of the Leader Dog Club have been baking up a flood of baked goods for their Bake Sale. Something different each week for the sale and then putting it in the freezer. All the money goes for paying the expenses for their trip to Rochester. Their dogs will be going to school for their final training and then placements with blind people. Good luck boys! We are all proud of you and the way you have raised the puppies.

4-H was in the Middle School Home Ec. classes this week thanks to Lloyd Nevins. The kids learned how to bundle corn stalks for a display, decorate pumpkin pie tops for Thanksgiving and make Xmas trees out of ice cream cones. He also showed cakes decorated by the boys at Camp Shawono where he works as a cook. Many thanks to Lloyd and the boys for sharing your many talents.

Jean Schmidt, our Swimming Club Leader of the Year, has voiced a need for some floatation aids for the beginning swimmers. If anyone has any Swimmies and Swims arm floatation aids or Swim egg or float kick boards or would be willing to make some float boards, Jean has the patterns for the float boards and will gladly accept the floatation aids. Jean, Betsy and Jessie are thinking about a swimming show for the parents to see their children turn into fish. I sure hope no one brings a fishing pole that day, I saw lots of fish in the pool at lesson time!

The 4-H Council is selling two Shopping Certificates from the Black & White Foodland to get monies to help new clubs get started and to pay for awards. You can get tickets from any 4-H leader or Sue Louchart of the Office. With Christmas coming who couldn't use $50 of groceries! Sounds good!

Speaking of food hope you all have a nice Thanksgiving and don't eat too much turkey. If anyone would like to join one or more of the many clubs or start a new club just call the 4-H Office at 348-5123 and let Ann and Lori know. Look for me next week with more news about clubs and what's new in 4-H. See you!

Almost every classroom in the Grayling Elementary came in to our class. Some people in our classroom read stories to others and acted out plays. We even heard a Pooh Bear record.When we were in gym class, Mrs. Knepp and her volunteers the pressure."

A fifth senior has joined the roster this year, Eric Batway, former Grayling resident who is a transfer student from Newberry. Seven juniors round out the team, including Tracy Fagan, Brad Trenary, Jerry & Terry Norman, Jeff Kortess, Jamey Radebaugh and Ted Methner. All seven saw a lot of playing time as sophomores last year.

"It'll be a tough conference battle this year," Hayes predicted, pointing to Cheboygan, Boyne City, Petoskey, Charlevoix and St. Ignace as formidable foes. Gaylord copped the title last year with a 13-1 mark, their only loss coming at the hands of Grayling. The tourney trail for the Vikings ended March 6th when they dropped a hard-fought 74-70 district game to Tawas at Roscommon.

Hayes said Fagan at 6'3", and John Junttila, 6'2" would man the center slot this year with Ted Methner, Bill Roach and the Norman twins vying for forward positions. The balance of the squad is expected to alternate at guard positions. "We look for Scott Hale to provide us speed, quickness and good defensive talent," said Hayes, "and for Scott Hamlin to get a lot of playing time this year."

JV coach Mills announced the following roster for the junior squad, which posted a 14-6 win-loss record last year. Sophomores include Ryan Morford, Rob Holzman, Jim Schrader, Monty D'Amour, Dave Bowyer, Rich Grant, Brad Emerick, Jeff Kea, Brian Penn and Bob Keene. New additions are freshmen Rob Morrill, Mike Hickey, Paul Hamlin, Wayne Ross, Ken Lademan and Jim Stewart.

GHS Athletic Director Mike Branch has announced that all Friday night home games will be played at the Middle School this season.

COOR SeeksHandicapped Child

From the time a child is born, he begins on a course of development which will hopefully result in the creation of a healthy, happy and productive adult. Any problem which interferes in this early developmental sequence be it physical, mental or emotional can create difficulties for this individual throughout his school years and into his adult life.

For this reason the C.O.O.R. Intermediate School District Child Find Program seeks to locate and identify those individuals from birth to five years of age who may have handicapping conditions. Through the Child Find Program, parents, relatives, pre-school and day care teachers can initiate the process which may lead to the development of an early educational program which will begin to help the pre-school handicapped child to cope with and overcome his handicap before the formal educational years begin.

It is hoped that this early programming will result in the child being able to function in a normal or more normal educational setting when he enters the regular school system. If you know of a child between the ages of birth and five years of age who you suspect of having any of the following handicaps: hearing loss, visual problems, speech & language delay, mental retardation, physical problems, severe emotional problems or a general developmental delay, please contact the Child Find Coordinator at C.O.O.R. Intermediate School District in Roscommon. The phone number is (517) 275-5137.

"It is not unusual for members of a family to contact us about relatives who, for one reason or another, absolutely refuse to seek aid or advice from those who care the most, but will listen to people from this office," said Ms. Thomas. "We act as a counseling agency in this area, and are quite often successful. But in the cases where we are unable to be effective we can help with Food Stamps to a degree."

When asked about abuses of the Food Stamp Program, Ms. Thomas said, "we have to assume that people will do what is right if supplied with proper information and means. In most cases, it works out as it should, but there are abuses over which we have very little control. When the Department hears of such abuses an investigation is immediately started. Intentional misuse or abuse results in cancellation of Stamps and re-assessment of all that person's assistance from the Department of Social Services Office. It can constitute fraud and that is a very serious matter," she stated. "It must be remembered, however, that Food Stamp regulations are Federally-mandated, and Local Agencies have very little control over their inception."

Who qualifies for Food Stamps? A rough measure is family size and total income from ALL sources. Other factors can apply though, and no one firm set of standards can apply to all persons.

"Every applicant is guaranteed that an application will be given or sent immediately upon request and that consideration of the completed request will begin as soon as possible. In cases of extreme need, Food Stamps can be obtained quickly, but cases usually take about ten days at this time of the year, when our applications are increasing." "After all," said Ms. Thomas, "we can't let people go hungry when the cupboard is bare. Our Department gives Stamp requests top priority."

To know whether a person qualifies, that person should visit the Social Service Office during business hours. Where that is not possible, a phone call might help or someone else can obtain information and an application.

"Be sure to ask for pamphlets on proper meal balance," adds Director Thomas, "that's the really important part of our program. If the smart buyer keeps that in mind, a higher quality food can be bought and the weekly food bill lower than before. Every bit of evidence we have shows that to be true."

Next week's Avalanche will carry an article from the local Social Services Office on just what can constitute a well-balanced daily nutrition for the average person. Be sure to watch for this Department Services information.

The Almanack

What did the people say?

RICHARD MILLIMAN

The people of the nation have spoken. They have elected a new President, swept aside a number of free spending Senators and Congressmen, turned toward the Republican Party, and set the nation on a new direction.

But what exactly did the people of the nation really say when they elected Ronald Reagan and turned out Jimmy Carter? The answer to that question will be argued long and loud for many months, perhaps years, with no definitive answer that will satisfy everyone.

The people of Michigan spoke, too, in that November 4 election. The message sent around the rest of the nation. Michigan voters were more tolerant of free spenders, turning out of office only one significant Democratic liberal, Congressman Bob Carr of Lansing.

In close districts, the people reinforced their perversity by returning—and thus, in a sense, endorsing their conduct in office—two Democratic Congressmen, Howard Wolpe of Kalamazoo and Delta Township, and Don Albosta of St. Charles.

In addition, the people in Michigan turned over about a half a dozen seats in the State Legislature, giving the Republicans a bit closer view of the majority side of the aisle, but keeping Democrats in firm command of the legislative side of state government.

Here, too, there is a sense that the people are not all that unhappy with the way things are going in Lansing; if unhappiness were rampant, would not the voters have exercised a fuller brush, as they did in Washington?

So what exactly is the voice of the people in Michigan, as expressed at the poll? Anybody's guess is as good as anybody else's.

For a peek at another quandary, look at three statewide propositions.

The people of Michigan turned down three different proposals for property tax relief. All three ideas met the same losing fate—the Smith-Bullard plan, to cut property taxes and replace the revenue with more state income tax; the governor's coalition plan, to cut property taxes and replace the revenue with more state sales tax; and the Tisch plan, to cut property taxes, and force state government to make do with less spending.

By turning down all three property tax plans, did the people turn their backs on the need for property tax relief? Not in the minds of most state leaders.

Governor Milliken for one has indicated the state must get to work on some sort of property tax relief.

"In spite of the rejection (of the three proposals), I believe there is a very strong feeling of insecurity and fear with respect to the property tax," Governor Milliken said shortly after the election.

"We have a responsibility to examine other alternatives. I don't know what the answer is, but I don't take the messages coming through lightly."

Legislative Democrats apparently hear similar voices. Some favor shifting from the property tax to the income tax.

When the cry of the tax reformer was heard by elected leaders earlier this year, Governor Milliken put together a strong bipartisan coalition behind a tax shift plan reducing property taxes and increasing sales taxes; this, they figured, would dilute popular support of the more stringent Tisch plan.

The voters rejected that coalition, even more strongly than the Tisch idea.

One message that elected leaders obviously hear is that they better do something to reduce property taxes, or the people will be back again. The Tisch proposal received about 45 percent approval in a losing cause, which means a lot of unhappy voters are out there in the grass roots, stirring up potential trouble.

But in my view, the real message from the people is not concerned primarily with the property tax. In my view, the real message is that the people want less government and less government spending.

Seldom has a task force of "the right people" been so thoroughly marshalled as it was in opposition to the Tisch proposal this year. Anybody who was anybody in public life in Michigan joined against Tisch. Hundreds of thousands of dollars went directly to defeat the Tisch plan, plus I would guess more than that being sent indirectly to point out the pitfalls of Tisch.

The main theme of the Tisch opposition was the deep, horrible cuts that would have to be made in government, if it were adopted. The campaign was graphic...even frightening, in some instances.

And yet, despite the well orchestrated campaign against it, with all its horror stories, almost half of the people who voted favored the Tisch proposal anyway.

What is the message of the people? In my view, the message is that the people want less government, which will translate into lower taxes.

And they don't really care if there is some blood shed in the process.

Johnson-Stephenson Speak Vows

Kathryn Anne Johnson and Mark Allen Stephenson exchanged wedding vows October 4th at the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church of Grayling. The Rev. George E. Spencer performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle E. Johnson of 503 Elm Street. The groom's parents are Harold L. Stephenson of Newport and Carol M. Wooden of Goose Creek Road.

Both attended Grayling High School. Kathy is a 1980 graduate of Central Michigan University. Mark is a Michigan National Guardsman.

The altar was decorated with arrangements of red carnations and white pompons and gladioli. Janet Dice presided at the organ in the 3:00 rite.

Given in marriage by her father, Kathy chose a floor length gown of white polyester knit lined in acetate. It featured lace applique trim, an empire waistline, long bishop sleeves, and a full skirt forming a chapel length train. A velvet bow secured her veil of snow white lace and she carried a lace edged bouquet of red roses and blue and white carnations.

Rosemary Jackson of Redford served as Kathy's maid of honor and Denise Krell of Mt. Pleasant was her bridesmaid. Both wore sleeveless gowns of garnet red polyester with matching pleated, waist length jackets. Each carried a single long-stemmed red rose with baby's breath and white lace streamers, with matching flowers tucked in her hair.

Bethany Dawn Leighton, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a long white dress with red dotted Swiss and carried a basket of red, white and blue silk flowers. A white lace bow adorned her hair. Barry Leighton, nephew of the bride, served as ring-bearer. Both reside in Flint.

Timothy Armstrong of Bridgeport was Mark's best man and Gary Johnson, brother of the bride, was groomsman and usher. John Stephenson, the brother of the groom, also ushered.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson chose a floor length gown of mauve polyester. The groom's mother and stepmother were attired in floor length sky blue dresses. All three ladies sported orchid corsages.

The wedding was followed by a reception for approximately 160 guests at Grayling's American Legion Hall. The hall was decorated with red and white streamers, red and white flowers, and red brandy glass candles. The wedding cake featured a moving golden fountain light in its center.

After a week long honeymoon trip to Marquette and Tahquamenon Falls, Mark left for National Guard training at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri.

Day Care For Mom and Dad

Do you need someone to care for a parent while you work or have a day shopping? We will care for any adult, either elderly or handicapped, from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday at the Senior Citizen Center. The goal of the program is to help in our small way, to keep our elderly citizens in their homes or the homes of their families and thus prevent institutionalization. Many seniors are up and around, some in wheelchairs, but able to be with a group but are not able to be left alone all day while the other family member works. These people could take advantage of our Day Care. We read, play games, sing, yes rest too, and laugh, listen, visit and have a good time. We have a capable, lovable, concerned staff to give you lots of attention. Give us a call and come in. We'd love to have you. Call 348-9314 or 348-7123 for details.

Grayling High Seniors from the school's Contemporary Living Class held two instructional weddings on Thursday, November 13, 1980.

Contemporary Family Living has been taught to seniors for the past five years and covers such life role competencies as human behavior, courtship and dating, wedding and marriage, jobs and careers, family growth and development, divorce and death and dying.

In the instructional wedding ceremony performed by Reverend Steven A. Bach of the Assembly of God Church, Gail Tinker and Dave Petrie were the chosen participants for the bride and groom.

The bride wore a floor length, high-necked gown of white lace with a seven foot train. She carried a bouquet provided by

J & R Florists.

The bride's maid of honor was Natalie Tomkins. The bridesmaids were Holly Nunn and Dawn Niederer. They wore floor length, red gowns with matching knit jackets. They also carried flowers from J & R Florists.

Bill Evon was the best man. The groomsmen were Bill Fairbotham and Richard Lange. All tuxedos were a donation of the Grayling Mercantile.

A wedding reception was held at the American Legion Hall, compliments of the legionnaires.

In a second ceremony, Edward Lee Charles Palmer and Arlene Marie Evon were united in marriage at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Grayling. Father Bill Rabior officiated at the 9:30 a.m. ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Neil Longworth.

The bride is the daughter of Shirley Evon and the groom's parents are Betty Palmer and Junior Palmer of Grayling.

A reception followed at the American Legion Hall for approximately 120 students, friends and family.

Prior to the instructional weddings, the classes have had several members of the local clergy visit as guest speakers to discuss marriage from their respective points of view.

During the second semester, money management is emphasized. Income taxes, legal and financial documents, insurance, credit, major purchases involving automobiles, furniture and homes are explored.

Area businesses have been most cooperative by discussing with students the costs of goods and services needed in the planning of a wedding. Businesses also provide many of the items needed for the instructional weddings at no cost to the students or the school.

The students of the first hour Contemporary Living Class would like to express their sincere appreciation to all merchants who donated their services to this project.

Instructors for Contemporary Family Life classes this year are Mr. Thomas Mills and Dora Lantzsch.

Poachers Face Prosecution

ROSCOMMON—Department of Natural Resources Conservation Officer Mike Mol, stationed at Houghton Lake, and Tom Swanson, Chief Assistant Prosecutor for Roscommon County, work together to effectively enforce the state's fish and game laws and prosecute poachers.

Cooperation among law enforcement officers, county prosecutors, and judges is critical. "You can't just let people go out and take fish and game whenever they want to," Swanson says. "If we did, the effect on our state's natural resources would be devastating."

Both Mol and Swanson say the cooperation they have received from local citizens has made their jobs easier. "With each conservation officer patrolling an average area of 300 square miles in northern lower Michigan, the odds against getting caught are too good for the poacher," Swanson says. "That's why public cooperation is so important."

And Mol says many northern Michigan residents are cooperating. "If someone is shining deer out in a field by their house, or if they hear shots, they will call me up and report it," he says.

But the poaching problem is widespread. While out on patrol one night recently, Mol came across three separate crews of men poaching.

"If I can just randomly go out and roam the county and catch three groups of people poaching in a single night—just think of the number of people that must be out there every night, in every county across the state," he says. "The amount of game taken by poachers is staggering."

Turkey meat can also be frozen. Covered with broth or gravy, cooked turkey slices or pieces may be held for six months; meat without gravy may be frozen for one month.

ACORN SQUASH

When shopping for acorn squash, look for a hard, tough rind that is dark green in color. A small area of yellow on the skin will not change the quality of the squash, but try to avoid purchasing squash with large areas of orange.

The squash should feel heavy for its size, they add. Avoid squash with cuts, sunken spots, or mold on the rind.

Grayling High School officially concluded its 1980 football season with a spaghetti dinner and awards banquet last Thursday night at the high school, an evening highlighted by presentation of the Most Valuable Player Award to senior quarterback John Junttila.

Parents and friends of JV and varsity cheerleaders and players were on hand as letters were awarded to 18 junior gridgers and two seniors from this year's squad. An additional fifteen veteran players received football inserts.

Head Coach Bill Klinger and aides Mike Branch and Don Ferguson made the presentations, preceded by introduction of varsity and JV cheerleaders and members of the JV football contingent.

Junior Varsity coaches Chuck Spencer and Fred Wolcott introduced the junior squad, who posted a 2-7 record this year with wins over Rogers City and Charlevoix. Spencer lauded the players for their hard work throughout the season after starting with little experience at the outset. "They proved they could learn the game of football," concluded Spencer, who said next year's varsity team will receive some top notch talent off this year's squad.

Varsity cheerleader awards went to Carolyn Cornell, Pam Tobin, Dawn Niederer, Connie Keene, Phyllis Walsh, Sharon Perry, Mandy Stillwagon and Bonnie Keusch. Coach Joanne Ferguson recognized the efforts of the group, and also introduced the JV girls, Kim Ostrowski, Paula Solomonson, Shawn Lovely, Kay Golinick, Sheri Cote, Wendy Callen and Kim Grandmaison.

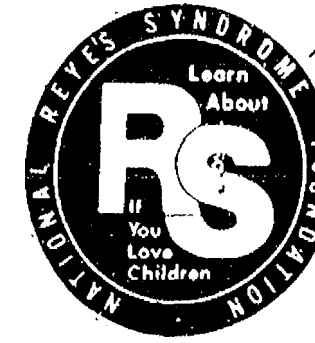

"Today's school newspaper summed up our season pretty well," Coach Klinger remarked before announcing the special awards, "it was a season of ups and downs." The team posted a pair of wins against seven losses, the victories coming over Roscommon, 19-9, and a 25-0 shellacking of Rogers City on home turf.

The Michael Goodrich Memorial Award went to co-recipients Steve Allen and Jay Schrader, senior linemen on this year's team and the 110% honor was presented to defensive back Jamey Radebaugh.

Junior Ted Methner won the Most Improved Player honor and senior Tim Emerick was presented the "1980 Captain" plaque. Junttila and Billy Roach were recognized for their selection to the Michigan Huron Shores All-League first team, along with Roger Weatherly and Radebaugh who earned honorable mention status.

Not You
"I can't hear you, son," mom said as Johnny was whispering his prayers.
"I'm not talking to you," the youngster replied.

POACHING IS A CRIME AGAINST ALL OF US—This picture should bother you. Just posing for it bothered veteran Michigan Conservation Officer Cliff Johnson, who was working in Roscommon County when this illegally killed deer was found. But, Johnson has seen deer in this condition before, too many times in fact. A poacher killed the animal, and true to the form of the outdoor world's worst kind of thief, stole only the choice hindquarters, leaving the rest of the carcass to waste. It's sad but true. The DNR estimates that at least as many deer are killed illegally as are taken legally by hunters each year. By law, deer belong to all of the people of Michigan. So, poachers steal from you. They steal from everybody. Why not help all conservation officers and other concerned Department of Natural Resources officials crack down on poachers? Report suspected fish and game law violations to your nearest law enforcement officer, or call the DNR's toll-free law enforcement hot line, 1-800-292-7800.

Working Together Benefits Wildlife

One of the oldest and thorniest conflicts in conservation is what might be referred to as the Users versus the Savers.

As regards wildlife the issue often turns out as uncompromising as the good guys versus the bad guys; in other words, to hunt or not to hunt.

Thus, we all know hunters who view preservationist groups as threats to their hunting pleasures. We also know of nature buffs who think of hunters as threats to our endangered wildlife. Both viewpoints are totally unfair. They are extremist. Neither is true and neither can ever help the cause of conservation. What is needed, of course, is better understanding on both sides.

We can't deny there is currently a movement, perhaps sincere but also misguided, against all forms of gun hunting. Yet for anyone to blame this on preservationist groups is not fair either. Only a small minority really oppose hunting. So where does the anti-hunting movement come from?

It comes from the large segment of our highly urbanized society which longs for, but does not really understand the beautiful world of the outdoors. Many people—especially those feeling hemmed-in by city life—consider all of nature's haunts as sort of sacred refuges. They are totally insulated from the ancient requisite to kill meat for the table and the idea of hunting for sport is also alien to them. Thus many of them feel that killing wildlife somehow degrades the experience—the sacredness—of the wild places they seek.

Though surely entitled to their private views, such people also need to recognize some basic facts about hunting.

First, the sport of hunting means much more than just killing. It means taking home meat which—except for the occasional vegetarian—is a universal practice. Hunters who leave their game out in the field, and there are a few such slobos, cannot be considered sportsmen. One difference then, between a hunter and a non-hunter, is that the latter never kills his own meat.

Also involved in hunting is skill and the challenge of pursuit; when these factors are missing there is no sport. One big reward of sportsmanship is the admiration gained for creatures which, according to their instincts and their wits, make the pursuit a fair deal. Anti-hunters have difficulty understanding this; they often view it as a contradiction. But the hunter—if he is a true sportsman—feels no guilt in pursuing what he admires. He, too, is entitled to his private views. He is not out to destroy a species, but only hopes to harvest a share before the predators do. And speaking of predators, can we deny that sudden death by gun may be more humane than death from natural causes?

So much for the personal views, those gut feelings which often stir a conflict between hunters and preservationists. When it comes to biological facts, there should be no conflict. It can honestly be stated that no endangered wildlife is today threatened by legal hunting. Look at any list of game species. All have two things in their favor: they have natural predatory enemies and they have breeding potentials which are more than adequate in good habitat.

Hunters thus harvest a surplus, what would otherwise be part of the natural kill. And while the trained biologists who work for wildlife agencies can and do adjust hunting seasons and limits—that is, the harvest—they have no way to halt man's abuses of the wildlife environment. So with regards to endangered species, which are never legally hunted, they are threatened far more by environmental abuses than by hunting.

One of the biggest mistakes made by anti-hunters is criticizing the rights of those who legally harvest the wildlife. This is when hunters lash back. This is when they pose a jabbing question: "Who pays for wildlife conservation, anyway?"

We all know the answer. Hunters and fishermen pay most of the costs of wildlife conservation, by means of licenses and related charges.

They also contribute to the federal government's share of purchasing duck stamps and paying hidden taxes on their sporting equipment. Wildlife, and especially its environment, needs all the help it can get these days, from groups and agencies that can work together.

Some anti-hunters might see things differently if they would get personally involved with wildlife. I don't mean by taking up guns. But many people who take up hunting with binoculars and cameras also know the challenge; they thrill in the pursuit just as does the man with the gun. And as they learn first-hand about wildlife and its problems, they are also likely to take a positive approach. They might even join hunters in buying a license and, in this way, do their bit to improve the total environment for the wildlife we all admire.

KCC Foundation Initiates Fund Drive for 1980

The Kirtland Community College Foundation, under the leadership of President Tom Jean and Vice President Mary E. Algure, is initiating a fund raising drive to provide funds for Kirtland Community College Scholarships, art exhibits, additional volumes in the library, and other special programs.

The Foundation, organized in 1972, relies heavily on individual gifts. A program for contributions of lump sums or monthly installments has been planned. Donations of any amount are accepted at any time, Mrs. Algure said.

Contributions may be in the name of an individual, as a gift for a member of one's family, or as a memorial for a friend or relative. Names of contributors of $100 or more will be inscribed on a plaque to be placed in the foyer of Kirtland's Library.

Tom Jean and Mary Algure bring considerable expertise to the KCC Foundation, each having been employed by the First Board of Education and the C.S. Mott Foundation. Since moving to Roscommon County Mr. Jean, builder, serves on the Gerrish-Higgins School Board, and is also an active member of the American Legion.

Mary Algure, also of Roscommon County, serves on the Boards of Higgins Lake Property Owners Association, and Northwest Michigan Human Services Agency, Traverse City.

A third new officer, Arnold Bader, was elected Treasurer. Mr. Bader is a Grayling State Bank executive. KCC President Raymond Homer will continue to serve as Secretary of the Foundation.

Other members of the Foundation Board are Mrs. Betty Blamer and Hugo Burzlaff of Mio; Mrs. Helen Eddy of Fairview, Lyle Wallace of Rose City; Mrs. Nancy Griffin, Dr. Thomas Westerfield, Wynne Steuermann, Wm. Attend the Church of Your Choice

To Be Thankful

It used to be that a picture like this could only mean harvest time — big orange pumpkins, shiny red apples, colorful stalks of Indian corn. And, of course, a turkey in the pantry.

But what about today? You can buy apples almost any time. Pumpkins are available in a can twelve months of the year. And you can buy a frozen turkey as easily in July as in November.

We Americans take for granted what was a real treat in our parent's time. But in the midst of this material plenty, there is a danger of spiritual famine. To keep the proper perspective, to appreciate the gifts of life to the fullest we need the Church and the story it has to tell us.

Maybe you can't be a pioneer — a Pilgrim. But you can follow your forefathers' example at Plymouth that first November. You can utter genuine thanks in the church or synagogue of your choice.

Bits O'Talk

by Fay Bovee
Guests of Mike and Sandy Fleming this week for Thanksgiving are her mother, Mrs. Gerd Kelly of Saginaw, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fleming of Traverse City, her sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Irwin of Louisville, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. Ron McLeod of Saginaw.

Dena Bovee of Marquette will arrive Tuesday to spend the remainder of the holiday week with her parents, the Bob Bovees.

Bill Sherlock of Northern Michigan U. will be spending the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lund.

Congratulations to Cary Vajda and Jim Karpicki on their performances at Kirtland CC on Saturday evening! And a big bouquet to all of the children in the audience, they were the best behaved audience that I have seen in a long time.

The Stancil family held an early Thanksgiving last Saturday evening with the Tom Stancils as the Phillip Stancils are leaving for Brenham, Texas, where he is employed by Professional Geophysics. Grace and son, Benjamin, have been here visiting her mother, Mrs. Dula Fitzpatrick, and will leave Tuesday to pick up Phillip and then return to Grayling. They will leave by car on Friday for Texas.

Les and Dena Hunter returned Sunday from a two week trip which took them first to Denver, Col. to visit their daughter, Mary Hunter. Mary moved from Cambridge, Mass., to Denver in the fall and is now employed by the Denver Center Theatre. They spent time with Dena's brother and wife, Mick and Laura Dreyer in Denver and did a lot of sight-seeing. On their return trip they stopped in Wyoming, Iowa, to visit friends, and in Rockford, Ill., to visit cousins. Gail and Paula Hunter of Atlanta, Ga., are expected for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Congratulations to Gene and Ida Papendick on their 55th wedding anniversary which fell on Sunday, November 23. They enjoyed a family dinner at the hotel on Friday evening.

Mrs. Elroy Jones spent the week with her cousin, Mrs. Ellen Gierke and entertained friends who had stopped by on November 12th for Mrs. Gierke's birthday.

Class of "71" is looking for addresses of Annabelle Bilger, Roger Ellison, Peggy Holey, Eugene Mohler, Beverly Nix, John C. Peters, Donald Shepler, Ronald Shepler, Virginia Stanton, Jay Wooley, and Janis Wright. Anyone knowing any of these please call Karen Bind-schatel at 348-8194 or Sherry Harney at 348-5333.

One Bone
At birth a baby's foot is composed of masses of soft cartilage with only one developed bone in his heel. It takes about 20 years for his feet to fully develop.
